

IATRISCAN AT A PENNSYLVANIA HOSPITAL

Faster Registration & Processing of Bills

The Problem:

Submission of bills was being delayed due to the lack of access to current insurance information and physician orders. The admissions process required production and collection of many documents. This registration paperwork was then routed to various locations, sometimes stored in a manner that made retrieval difficult and time-consuming. This impacted both the Coders and the Billing office and ultimately created delays in the billing process.

The Solution:

IatriScan provided Point of Service scanning during the Admissions process allowing them to scan, index and store images such as insurance cards, signed consents, and physician orders. These documents could then be viewed any time by appropriate staff such as coders and billing clerks as they did their job to get bills out the door. An additional benefit to patients was noted as they seemed to proceed through the admissions process more quickly because admissions clerks were not waiting at a copier any more.
